Carina Vinke

The Dutch alto Carina Vinke has been performing since the age of nine, both in the Netherlands and abroad. She received her Bachelor of Music from the Royal Conservatory of The Hague in May 2004. In June 2007 she completed her Masters degree, specializing in opera, at The New Dutch Opera Academy, graduating with the highest honours. Because of her unique warm voice and dramatical talent, Carina is regarded internationally as a promising singer. She is an all-round singer and since 2005 she has specialized in singing Spanish Art Songs. Carina has been coached by Jard van Nes, Teresa Berganza and José Maria Gallardo del Rey. As a concert singer she has sung oratorio, contemporary music and lieder. In the opera repertoire she interpreted the roles of Bradamante in Händels 'Alcina'; Hermia in Britten's 'A Midsummer Night's Dream' and Carmen in Peter Brook's 'La tragédie de Carmen', an adaptation of Bizet's original. Carina has also collaborated on many radio and television broadcasts in the Netherlands.

Education:

Carina received her master degree opera in June 2007 at "The New Opera Academie" of the Royal Conservatory of The Hague.
